

United States Court of Appeals FOR THE EIGHTH CIRCUIT

No. 99-3346EA

Ollie R. Humphrey,

Appellant,

v.

Arkansas Forestry Commission; Don McBride, District Forester; and John Shannon, State Forester,

Appellees.

*
*
*
*
*
*
*
*
*
*
*
*
*
*
*

On Appeal from the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Arkansas.

[Not To Be Published]

Submitted: April 10, 2000

Filed: April 20, 2000

Before RICHARD S. ARNOLD, BEAM, and MORRIS SHEPPARD ARNOLD, Circuit Judges.

PER CURIAM.

This is an employment-discrimination case. The plaintiff, Ollie R. Humphrey, alleges that her former employer, the Arkansas Forestry Commission, violated Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 by discharging her on account of her race and in retaliation for protected activity on her part. The District Court¹ granted the defendants' motion for summary judgment, and we affirm.

The facts and law are fully stated in the well reasoned opinion of the District Court. Defendant asserted that the plaintiff was discharged because she was not performing satisfactorily. The evidence offered by the plaintiff to show pretext was not, in our opinion, sufficient to create a genuine issue of material fact on this point. Accordingly, we affirm without further discussion.

Affirmed.

A true copy.

Attest:

CLERK, U.S. COURT OF APPEALS, EIGHTH CIRCUIT.

¹The Hon. Susan Webber Wright, Chief Judge, United States District Court for the Eastern District of Arkansas.