Before BOWMAN, FLOYD R. GIBSON, and LOKEN, Circuit Judges.

PER CURIAM.

Danny Daggett, Sr. appeals from the order of the District Court¹ granting summary judgment in favor of Bridgestone/Firestone, Inc. ("Firestone") on Daggett's claims of disability discrimination and of retaliatory discharge in violation of Iowa public policy based on Daggett's filing of a worker's compensation claim against Firestone. For reversal, Daggett argues that the summary-judgment record shows the existence of genuine issues of material fact and that the District Court therefore erred in granting summary judgment for Firestone.

Having considered the case, we conclude the District Court did not err in its grant of summary judgment. The undisputed evidence all points in one direction: that Firestone fired Daggett for legitimate attendance problems and that the decision to terminate his employment had nothing to do with his alleged disability or his worker's compensation claim. No error of law appears, and an opinion by this Court would add nothing of substantial value to the thorough and carefully reasoned opinion of the District Court. Accordingly, without further discussion the decision of the District Court is AFFIRMED. See 8th Cir. R. 47B.
