

PER CURIAM.

The bankruptcy court¹ entered judgment against Thomas Womack, Jr., in an adversary proceeding. Womack timely appealed, but failed to perfect the appeal in accordance with Bankruptcy Rule 8006. The bankruptcy court thus referred the case to the district court² for such action as it deemed appropriate, under Bankruptcy Rule 8001(a). The district court issued a show-cause order affording Womack the opportunity to explain his failure to perfect the appeal, and warning him that he faced dismissal. Womack's filing was unresponsive on this issue, and the district court dismissed the appeal. Womack now appeals that dismissal. We conclude that the district court did not abuse its discretion in dismissing the bankruptcy appeal for failure to perfect it. See In re Fitzsimmons, 920 F.2d 1468, 1470-71 (9th Cir. 1990) (standard of review); see also In re Champion, 895 F.2d 490, 492 (8th Cir. 1990) (per curiam). Accordingly, the judgment is affirmed.
